

On the Death of a Dog

David Worrall 1994.02.20

The uncertainty of not knowing
Pales into insignificance
Leeching the timbres of you voice for intent:

Despair Attitude Response Self-defence

Before relating to another
There is only innocence
And the despair of premeditation.

Another bluey has gone, now
What is it love is teaching me?